

WOMEN IN ISLAM – CALL FOR ARTWORK

Women in Islam, an annual journal available in English and Arabic, is seeking contributions for its next edition. The Journal is published by the SIHA Network (the Strategic Initiative for Women in the Horn of Africa).

Women in Islam explores gender relations in Muslim communities and aims to promote alternative and progressive discourses on Islamic traditions and texts. Focusing on the issues of justice and women's equality, the journal reflects on the current challenges faced by Muslim societies while analysing their interactions with other communities across the globe. With contributions from thinkers, activists, journalists and artists, the journal strives to appeal to a broad audience of readers by presenting complex ideas in an accessible format.

We are looking for:

- Sketches
- Paintings
- Cartoons
- Photographs
- Illustrations

The images in the journal will accompany articles on a range of topics related to women in Muslim societies, illustrating writing on Muslim women in Africa and beyond. In past issues of the journal, we've published artwork like this:
